Professional Profile

Mr Haresh Devalia started his higher specialist training in the Oxford Deanery and completed it in the London Deanery via the South West Thames Surgical Rotation. He has trained at several centres of high repute including the Royal Marsden, St George's Hospital London and the Royal Surrey County Hospital. Mr Devalia's current appointment is a Consultant Breast and Oncoplastic Surgeon at Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust. He is currently acting as Lead of the Breast Care Unit at both MTW & KIMS Hospital.

Mr Devalia is one of the first ten breast surgeons certified in cosmetic breast surgery by the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and has been appointed by The Royal College of Surgeons as one of the few evaluators for new cosmetic breast surgeons. Along with his partner in practice Mr Mohsin Dani, they have won 'The Best Oncoplastic and Aesthetic Breast Surgeons in England' award for exemplary work.

Mr Devalia takes great pride in providing the highest standards in patient care. He has a keen interest in research and is widely published.
